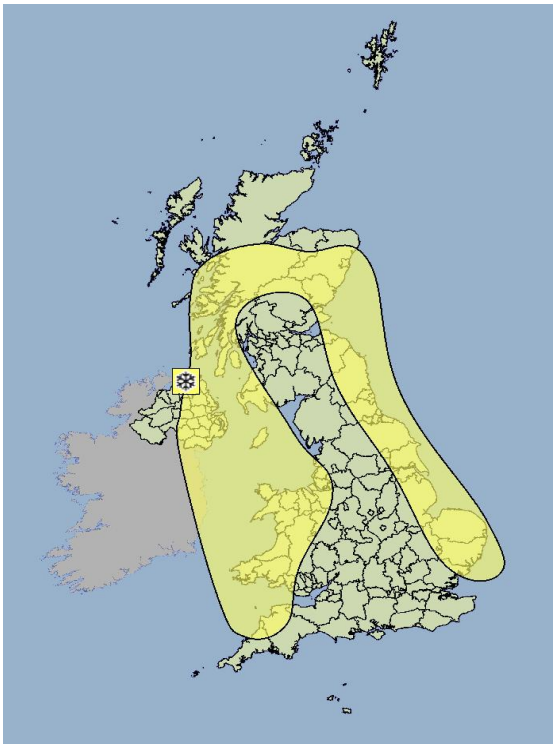
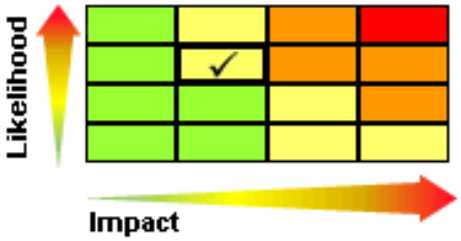
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
A cold north to northwesterly airstream will keep the risk of wintry weather going through Friday. Some inland areas, sheltered from the northwesterly wind, seem likely to escape most of the showers.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Snow

Valid from 00:05 on Fri, 13th Jan 2017 until 23:55 on Fri, 13th Jan 2017

Further showers of snow, sleet and hail will continue across parts of the UK. 2 to 4 cm of snow may affect some lowland areas, while high ground may see locally 5 to 10 cm.

Disruption to transport networks seems likely either due to snow or ice. Additionally, northwesterly gales and large waves will affect some eastern coastal areas, perhaps leading to local over-topping.
